

January 17, 1958

Dr. George Klein
Department of Tumor Biology
Karolinska Institutet
Stockholm 60, Sweden

Dear George:

To yours of January 3. The bulletin on "Symposia" seems OK. in every respect. What will happen is that the main speakers will take a little longer time, but this is all right and better than pressing the last speaker. Don't worry any further about Szybalski.

I have to ask you one favor. My student and colleague Tetsuo Iino was caught between two stools, whether he should be accepted through the Japanese or the United States Society. Also he did not know in good time that he could be at Stockholm. Would it be possible to accept him as a delegate to the Congress? His abstract will be sent through the United States Committee, copies enclosed.

He had communicated with Professor Akiba in Japan and was accepted in principle there, but the deadline posed a difficult problem. He would like to be considered as a delegate either from Japan or the U. S. as seems most apt.

He will be here until mid-April, and then to Bruce Stocker at London until the symposium.

u
Apropos antibody production: 10-20% of the cells from a lymph node suspension (secondary response) produce one or the other; so far, none have done both. I will probably not be in a condition to do anything involving the tumors until after the symposium, so we must be sure to discuss it in Madison.

Yours sincerely,

Joshua Lederberg

JL/ew